

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Diamond B Technology Solutions, LLC (LR-x® Technology) Announces Strategic Technology Affiliation to Enhance LR-x® Technology Application

Billings, MT, Wednesday, August 7, 2018 – Today, Diamond B Technology Solutions, LLC (LR-x® Technology) announced a strategic affiliation with Sierra Wireless® in conjunction with AVI Systems to provide the MG90 as an added solution to the LR-x® application utilizing its FirstNet capabilities for secure and prioritized communication for iPads and weather sensors. LR-x® is a cloud based, easy to use, real time technology for heightened situational awareness of chemical spills, CBRN threat, airborne hazard events, and wildfire management. First response decisions can be made using 3D Wind Field and ALOHA model results in under 5 minutes by use of a mobile device or tablet. LR-x® is based on patented technology developed and licensed exclusively to Diamond B Technology Services by the U.S. Army Research Laboratory under U.S. Patent 9,911,303 issued March 6, 2018.

The Sierra Wireless® AirLink® MG90 Vehicle Router is FirstNet Ready certified device that supports multi-network connectivity and uninterrupted operation in harsh vehicle environments. The modular radio design allows users to upgrade, add or switch to choice of supported WAN, minimizes costs by consolidating traffic over preferred network connections, and simplifies management and maintenance of mobile assets and mission critical applications.

Diamond B Technology Solutions, LLC looks forward to the utilization of AirLink® MG90 (and MP70 respectively) in their LR-x® application.
